

presents:

FARM TO TABLE

Agriculture Law in the Era of Sustainability

Friday, October 30, 2015 8:30 am - 4:30 pm

This innovative symposium will feature presentations from more than thirteen practitioners, scholars, and agriculture experts. Each presenter will draw on their unique expertise to provide insights into the most significant legal issues affecting the sustainability of our agriculture and food systems.

Location

Texas A&M University School of Law
Amon G. Carter Lecture Hall
1515 Commerce Street
Fort Worth, Texas 76102

Topics Include

Farm & Ranchland Sustainability
Future of Crop & Food Sustainability Sustainable Animal Agriculture

Register

Register at www.tamulawreview.org

Registration:

- $75
- Early Bird (before Oct. 16): $60
- Breakfast/Lunch Included in the Registration Price
- 6.5 CLE Hours Pending

Keynote Presenters

DR. MARK HUSSEY
Texas A&M Vice Chancellor
& Dean of Agricultural and Life Sciences

PROFESSOR JAMES CHEN
Michigan St. University
College of Law

If you have any questions or need further information, please contact:

Brent Doré, Symposia Editor symposia.editor@tamulawreview.org or

Deborah Barnett, Staff Advisor
dbarnett@law.tamu.edu

